All your breaking celebrity news!

A VERY pregnant Kim Kardashian is putting herself in the hands of someone not named Kanye West – and paying for the privilege!

“Kim is seeing a masseuse who specializes in moving extra weight back to her bump!” a mole close to the star told The National ENQUIRER.

Though Kim’s not unhappy with her 25-pound pregnancy gain – she even posted a daring naked selfie Aug. 10 – she’s less than thrilled that the weight is clinging to every signature Kardashian curve!

“She is really careful about overdoing it on sweets and carbs but still, she is getting water weight in her arms, butt, even her feet!” her pal confided.

Kim, 34, gave birth to daughter North in 2013. She’s expecting a boy this time around and is determined to stay in shape.

KIM’S NEW WHIM: A baby weight whisperer!

She hires masseuse to FIX her wobbly bits

The proclaimed “baby weight whisperer” charges $500 an hour and guarantees she can move excess fat and water back to where they belong.

The massage therapy is safe and works like acupuncture, putting gentle to firm pressure on areas to change the way the body takes in water.

“Kim’s whole life is her appearance, and she cannot bear the ridicule she had when she was last pregnant,” said the source, noting that Kim is begging to have massages every day, complete with electric currents and aromatic oils.

But while Kim might be driving herself crazy, there’s one person who likes the poundage where it is: “Kanye thinks she needs to realize some women are just destined not to be skinny while pregnant!”

COURTENEY WANTS A MINI McDAID!

COURTENEY Cox and her rocker fiancé are planning to adopt, sources told The National ENQUIRER exclusively.

The former “Friends” beauty, 51, is already mother to 11-year-old daughter Coco, whose father is her ex-husband, David Arquette, 43.

Insiders said Courteney’s Northern Irish rocker beau, Johnny McDaid, 39, dotes on the little girl as if she were his own – and the lovebirds are so keen to add to the family as quickly as possible that they are also considering surrogacy.

“They’ve decided to adopt a little boy, even if they decide to go ahead with the surrogacy option as well,” a source revealed.

“Coco is desperate for a sibling, and Courteney’s realistic about her age making it unlikely she’ll conceive naturally – though they’re not ruling that out and will continue to try!” the insider added.

“But they’re hugely attracted to adoption and have been looking at an orphanage down in Mexico.”

According to the insider, it’s a long adoption process but they hope to have a baby in their arms by the end of the year.

“Johnny is driving this; he thinks he’s found the right orphanage they want to adopt from, and he wants Courteney to visit as much as possible,” the source added.

“It’s mostly just a case of finding someone who will be the ideal brother for Coco. They would also be open to adopting one of the kids who is already a couple years old.”

The prospective new parents may plan their baby news to coincide with their wedding – the exact date of which has kept people guessing.

Earlier this month, Courteney was the last guest to leave pal Jennifer Aniston’s surprise wedding to Justin Theroux – but she and Johnny skipped the celebrity-studded honeymoon party in Bora Bora because they were too busy with their baby plans.

JOEL'S JOY AT BELLA DELLA!

ROCK legend Billy Joel can croon “I love you just the way you are” to the new “Modern Woman” in his life – Della Rose Joel!

Billy, 66, and wife Alexis, 33, who married in July, welcomed their baby girl Aug. 12. Della Rose is Billy’s second child – he and “Uptown Girl” ex-wife Christie Brinkley have a daughter, Alexa Ray, 29. The “Piano Man” plans to be a stay-at-home dad this time around, because: “I don’t have a regular job!” As for expressive baby Della, she’s got a way about her – maybe dad will write her a “Lullaby!”

'INSANE' MADONNA'S CREW IN MUTINY!

AN OUT-of-control Madonna has been on a rampage, lashing out during rehearsals for her Rebel Heart Tour – and her exhausted dancers have started to return fire!

“The dancers declared mutiny because she’s working them straight into the grave,” a tour insider exclusively told The National ENQUIRER.

The 57-year-old pop icon is so desperate to hang on to her relevance she’s riding roughshod over her band and dancers to ensure this tour vaults her back to the top of the charts.

“She’s been acting insane,” said the source. “One of the dancers broke her arm during rehearsal, and instead of showing concern, Madonna had a meltdown!”

The crew said the singer’s been abusive and demands that everyone wear black at all times.

After one prolonged episode of abuse, a dancer threw his credentials in her face and screamed: “F--k you!

Madonna with her dancers on “The Tonight Show” in April

She’s pushing dancers on new tour to breaking point

I quit!” The incident was so inflammatory, the source said a shaken Madonna called security to “escort the remaining dancers out of the rehearsal.”

Insiders also said Madonna believes anyone on board the tour should be thankful they’re a part of it.

“She expects everyone to make this tour their top priority,” added the source.

“She knows that everyone she hires will work countless hours at less than minimum wage because they want to work with Madonna. But she’s taking advantage of them.”

Some insiders fear many of the dancers and the band will rebel before the tour even hits the road.

“She’s been a nightmare!” said the source.

One dancer even quit after one of the entertainer’s abusive rants!

JENNIFER Garner tearfully broke down during a showdown with cheating husband Ben Affleck!

But in a bombshell twist, The National ENQUIRER has learned the betrayed beauty, 43, has been secretly hooking up with former lover Michael Vartan – who's also dealing with a broken marriage!

"Jen's still in pieces over what Ben did to the family, how it's all fallen apart in such humiliating circumstances," said an insider.

"She's tried to keep things amicable, but the longer time passes the angrier she gets that Ben threw their marriage down the drain.

"Staying on good terms is proving impossible. She even declared, 'I hate you,'" the insider added.

As The ENQUIRER revealed, Jen's world came crashing down when news leaked that her spouse of 10 years had reportedly cheated with the family's former nanny, Christine Ouzounian, 28.

Before the shocking public revelation, the stars had been keeping their split peaceful and had even discussed a potential reconciliation, divulged sources.

Jilted Jen rips cheating Affleck as she turns to ex-lover for comfort civil for the sake of the pair's three young children, but sources claimed she's lost respect for one-time soulmate Ben, 43.

Now she's leaning on her "Alias" co-star Michael, 46. The two dated from 2003 to 2004 before she married Ben in June 2005.

Ironically, Michael split with his wife of three years, Lauren Skaar, last July.

"Michael's been a total rock for Jen throughout this whole nightmare," said another source. "They both know exactly how the other feels." NE

Rattled Rumer barreling toward a MELTDOWN!

RUMER Willis is on the verge of a nervous breakdown, freaking out over high expectations created by her "Dancing with the Stars" victory, The National ENQUIRER has learned.

The 27-year-old is preparing for a lead role in the Broadway musical "Chicago" and crumbling under the pressure.

Rumer is set to play Roxie Hart in "Chicago"

"Rumer's been a disaster in rehearsals," dished an insider.

"Sure, she knows how to dance. But taking on the starring role in a major production is way beyond anything she's ever done before."

Though Rumer's rep denied any problems, pals are troubled by her behavior offstage.

"Rumer has been crying and suffering panic attacks!" said a source. "She just can't cope. Everyone is wondering if she'll quit – or get fired!"

Meanwhile, mom Demi Moore is terrified for her daughter.

"The last thing Demi wants is for Rumer to suffer the same sort of collapse she went through when Ashton Kutcher dumped her," added the insider.

HALLE'S LITTLE WHITE 'SPARKLY' LIE!

She says she lost engagement ring ... and then she's seen wearing it!

HALLE Berry has a great story about her missing engagement ring – but it's missing the ring of truth!

With divorce rumors swirling around the “Extant” star and French film actor Olivier Martinez, Halle claimed her emerald ring was lost or stolen during the Acapulco Film Festival in Jan. 2014.

But The National ENQUIRER has unearthed obscure – and shocking – photos of the Oscar winner in July 2014 that clearly show her wearing the ring six months after she said it was lost!

In the images, Halle, now 49, is seen visiting a poor Nicaraguan village as part of Michael Kors' charity work to stop hunger. On her finger is the same gold emerald ring she wore in Acapulco.

The news comes a week after The ENQUIRER exclusively quoted an insider as saying the “X-Men: Days of Future Past” actress could file for divorce any day.

“The couple hasn't lived under the same roof in a very long time,” the source claimed.

“Olivier spends much of his free time in France, and hates living in Los Angeles.”

Halle ordered hotheaded Olivier, 49, into counseling after he was caught on video smacking an LAX airport worker.

The divorce is certain to be a monster battle, with Halle's fortune estimated at $80 million and speculation over Olivier's wildly ranging from $20 million to $220 million.

MELANIE'S SKIN ER HELL!

STILL reeling after a nasty divorce from Antonio Banderas, Melanie Griffith appears to be facing an even scarier setback – skin cancer!

Disturbing new photos obtained by The National ENQUIRER show a large, angry red lesion on the 58-year-old actress' nose.

"That is almost always a clear sign of skin cancer, and it looks like a horrific case," warned Dr. Stuart Fischer, who has not treated the "Working Girl" star.

"On a scale of seriousness, it's at least a seven out of 10."

The abrasion is alarming given Melanie's medical history, which includes surgery in 2009 to remove the early stages of skin cancer from her face.

Dr. Fischer said: "Left on its own, this new lesion could become increasingly disfiguring."

While Melanie did the right thing in getting early treatment for her previous skin cancer, "she should have been more vigilant in ensuring there would be no recurrence," Dr. Fischer explained.

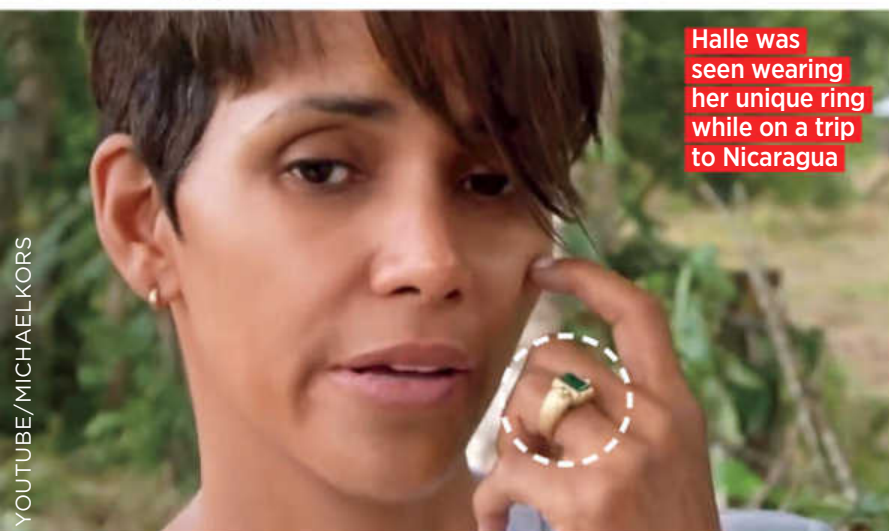

Now the disease may be so aggressive it could ruin her livelihood, he added.

"Obviously, she needs to stay out of the sun," our expert said. "If she does go out without sunblock, her face could be ravaged. As an actress, this could be career-threatening."

Meanwhile, her ex celebrated turning 55 on Aug. 11 with his sweetie, Nicole Kempel, 35.

A close pal added: "Melanie is already feeling very vulnerable since Antonio so blatantly cheated on her."

"Worrying about the destruction of her looks could lead to a total breakdown!"

GIULIANA Rancic is starving herself into an early grave!

That's the terrifying prediction from health experts who warn if 41-year-old talk queen Giuliana doesn't get her weight issues under control soon, the consequences could be fatal.

"She looks like a walking skeleton," exercise physiologist and nutritionist Franci Cohen told The National ENQUIRER. "I cannot imagine she weighs more than 90 pounds."

Franci said Giuliana is displaying "clinical signs of anorexia," such as tired eyes and brittle hair,

BEEFCAKE BU CASE OF C

IDO. I don't. I do. I don't. That's the furious flip-flop going on in Gerard Butler's handsome head as he decides - and then changes his mind - to marry gorgeous girlfriend Morgan Brown, who's getting more and more frustrated by the minute!

"Gerard is driving Morgan crazy with his mixed signals," a friend of the star revealed to The National ENQUIRER.

"He asked her to move into his house and then he gave her a $25,000 ring, but it didn't come with a proposal. And he still insists to all his pals that he's not engaged!"

The 45-year-old never-been-wed actor - best known for his role in "300" and his notorious playboy image in real life - is red hot for Morgan, but his feet are icy cold about marriage.

"Gerard thinks at his age he's still not sure if marriage will ever be something he wants," explained the friend.

BUTLER GETS A COLD FEET!

Gerard made it big after moving to the U.S. from his native Scotland in 2000, and quickly struck gold with a string of A-list hotties.

The heartbreaker's list of conquests include Jennifer Aniston, Cameron Diaz, Lindsay Lohan, model Naomi Campbell and reality TV star Brandi Glanville.

After 15 years of dating up a storm, he met stunning model-turned-interior designer Morgan, 44, a little more than a year ago, and the romance quickly turned serious.

"Gerard grew tired of moving from one girl to another just about every week," said the friend.

"Morgan is beautiful, fun and down to earth. She's a great companion for him. But now Gerard seems to be scared of marriage.

"Yet how long will Morgan stay content just being another lady on a star's arm and in his bed - rather than becoming Mrs. Gerard Butler? That's the question."

Bloated Baldwin is too grumpy for hottie Hilaria!

GROUCHY Alec Baldwin's relationship with his hot young wife, Hilaria, is so rocky the couple has called sex therapist Dr. Ruth in a desperate bid to save their marriage.

"They've been fighting a lot," a source close to the couple exclusively told The National ENQUIRER.

"Alec's always been a hot-head with her, but now it's gotten even worse!"

The battling Baldwins wed in 2012. They have a daughter, Carmen, 2, and Hilaria, 31, gave birth to Rafael in June.

While the actor's rep denied all, our insiders said the strain of raising a new family is too much for Alec, 57.

"Alec is permanently tired and irritable," said the source, "and it's driving Hilaria nuts!"

"She can't stand his mood swings! She moved into a separate bedroom about a month ago because she couldn't take it anymore."

And it's not just his attitude that needs adjusting.

"Alec is no help at all around the house and he's hopeless with the kids," said the insider. "Now he's packing on the pounds again, and Hilaria's had enough."

Dr. Ruth Westheimer, 87, told the couple "they need to find time for each other," added the source. "And not allow the kids to totally take over their lives." NE

REV YOUR ENGINES, BOYS! Picture sexy SCARLETT JOHANSSON's dangerous curves, tightly encased in a form-fitting "Black Widow" suit, as she crouches atop a speeding motorcycle on the "Captain America: Civil War" set, where she's supposed to pull up to a curb, leap off and charge into a building after bad guys, except ... SPLAAT! ... ScarJo bumped the curb and fell right on her generously padded ass! Said my source: "She'd insisted on doing her own stunt, but got tossed on her fanny – tearing open a wide rip revealing her world-class derriere for the world to see! Gaping guys groaned as costume ladies hustled to cover the star as the director hollered for a stuntwoman!"

Ed manhandles sexy Sofia!

VOLUPTUOUS SOFIA VERGARA stacks up as an armful for any man, but when her TV hubby – 69-year-old "Modern Family" star ED O'NEILL – heard the show's director suggesting a strong stunt double for a scene where Ed's character tears off Wifey's dress and carries her upstairs to the bedroom, real-life Ed reacted ... er, strongly! Said My Spy-Witness: "Seething at the hint that he's old and weak, Ed startled cast and crew – and gasping Sofia – when he suddenly reached over, picked her up and lifted her above his head, strutting around the set to show off his manliness as she giggled! Everyone applauded, and later filmed several takes of Ed tearing off Sofia's dress and carrying her upstairs over and over!" Ed later admitted to some sore muscles, but never got a back rub from Sofia! Aaaawwwwww!

Newspapers the world over snatched up my scoop about femme execs at NBC searching fiercely for a lady host to replace Donald Trump on "The Apprentice" – now here's a NEW secret the sneak-thieves can steal: Prowling for a powerhouse after trolling their tentacles for the likes of BETHENNY FRANKEL and AMAL CLOONEY, the gals finally reached out to both ELLEN DEGENERES and (GASP!) OPRAH WINFREY! But both mega-mommas turned them down FLAT! Said my network source: "No surprise that Oprah's not interested – she's a trailblazer and ain't about to step into anybody else's shoes. As for Ellen, she's such a softie onstage she won't say, 'You're fired!' She even hated having to criticize people on 'American Idol!'" So Trump THAT, NBC!

HILARIOUS vibe as KRIS JENNER put on a brave Happy Face for daughter KYLIE's landmark 18th birthday party, obviously un-comfy because CAITLYN JENNER – the glam broad formerly known as her male ex-hubby Bruce Jenner was also present, decked out in all her female glory! “Kris still mourns the loss of her husband,” said a family source, “so it’s torture for her to get up-close and see her ex turned into someone else. But it was very important to Kylie for both parents to celebrate her big day with her – so Kris sucked it up, but it was NOT easy; especially because Caitlyn keeps saying she wants to be ‘girlfriends’ with Kris! But Kris keeps telling Kylie and the kids that she’s got plenty of girlfriends, so the last thing she needs is cozy ‘girly-chats’ with her ex-husband – OR helping him pick out his dresses!”

TAYLOR SWIFT's bestie, freckle-faced carrot-top Brit warbler ED SHEERAN, totally regrets telling the world he “fell in love with a beanbag” after taking his very first trip on head-banging Ecstasy – because now pals (Taylor?) are teasing him mercilessly about his

When it finally buzzed, the joint’s manager looked over, then gasped, ‘OMIGOD ... a STAR!’ Instantly seating Kevin and cuties, he chewed out the hapless hostess, even threatening to fire her. But Melissa and Kristen really got creeped out when told that Belushi had signed to play the lead in the original ‘Ghostbusters’ just before he’d tragically died – and reports say he’d actually showed up to haunt the set back then!” BOO!!

The high seas horror unfolded one dark night during a vacation aboard Cage’s yacht. Skipper Nic got heavy into the rum, then started snarling and ranting at his bride-to-be when she complained about his boozing! Shaking with rage, Lisa Marie took off her ring – and hurled it into the sea! Horrified Cage howled, “That was a $65,000 f---ing DIAMOND!!” He freaked and

The actor expressed interest in meeting Di, and the smitten Duchess obliged by giving him a phone number. NATALIE WOOD
DEATH MYSTERY

WAGNER'S NIGHT NA TRUTH DETECTOR RE

ROBERT Wagner has peddled an outrageous "pack of lies" and engineered a three-decades-long cover-up about the mysterious drowning of screen siren Natalie Wood.

That's the conclusion of famed lie-detection expert Michael Sylvestre, who used a special truth-detecting device to scrutinize a series of tell-tale confessions made by the "Hart to Hart" star about his suspicious role in his wife's grisly death off Catalina Island, Calif., in 1981.

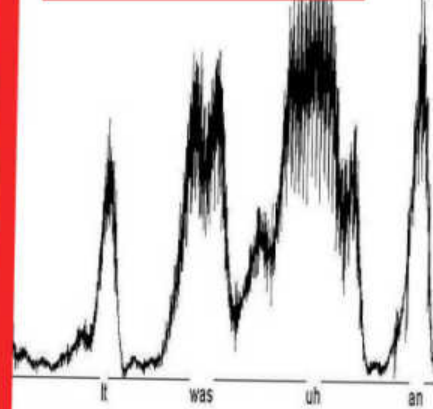

Michael, a certified voice-stress analyst, fed tapes of Wagner's confessions about what happened that fateful night into the DecepTech Voice Stress Analysis Machine – a computerized version of the famed Psychological Stress Evaluation.

The tool, used by more than 50 law-enforcement agencies in the U.S. and others overseas, detects stress changes that indicate truthfulness and show up as waves.

The newest hi-tech test is also said to be superior to a conventional polygraph and is renowned for providing conclusive results!

After completing his analysis of two separate interviews, Michael concluded: "Robert Wagner lied about Natalie's death over and over again!

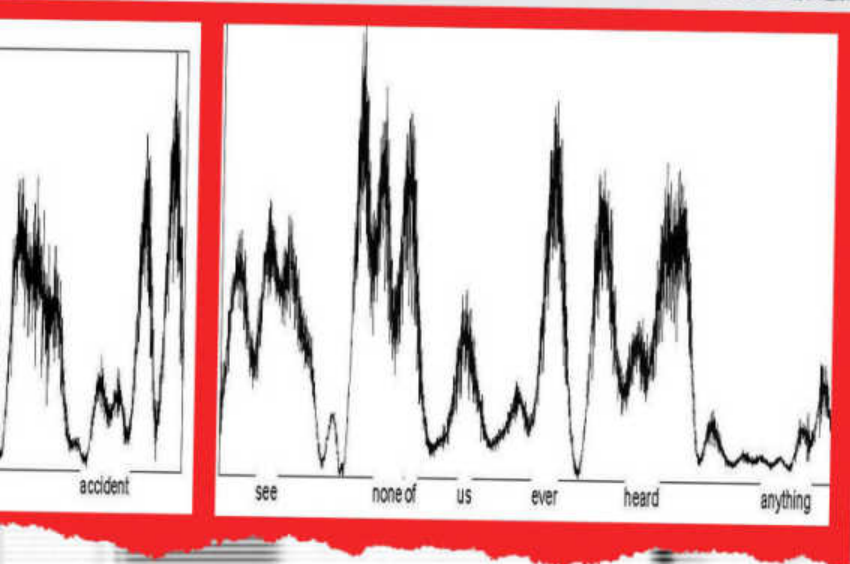

"His test results are riddled with stress," he told The National ENQUIRER in a world exclusive interview.

"My conclusion is that he was lying to cover up something. In my opinion, it's a strong possibility that Robert Wagner murdered Natalie Wood!"

THE HOLLYWOOD megastar provided evidence of his apparent guilt in two interviews evaluated by this leading authority in lie detection.

At The ENQUIRER's request, Michael first analyzed an interview Wagner did with Internet radio show "Growing Bolder" in late 2009 to promote his memoir, "Pieces of My Heart."

Referring to his wife's tragic and violent death, the actor declared: "It was, uh, an accident that happened."

Michael noted: "On the word 'uh' his stress level is almost off the charts. He's lying. This definitely wasn't an accident."

Wagner also said: "She slipped on the [swim] step of the boat."

Michael said: "There's a lot of stress in the word 'slipped,' and that means the whole statement is false."

"She didn't slip, something untoward happened."

At another point, Wagner said: "See, none of us ever heard anything. If we had heard something we would have done something."

Michael said: "There are multiple peaks, especially in the word 'none.' He's lying. He definitely heard something."

A managing partner at Truth & Deception Technologies in Kissimmee, Fla., Michael also detected lies in a tape of Wagner's Sept. 2008 interview with his book's publisher.

The actor, now 85, maintained that he'd written his memoir as "straightforwardly and honestly and as truthfully as I remembered it."

But Michael said: "Once again, there's a lot of stress. This tells me what he wrote about what happened to Natalie Wood is a pack of lies."

IN ANOTHER SECTION of the interview Wagner spoke about dating his current wife, Jill St. John, after Natalie's death.

Michael charged: "When he said they 'started going out' there's a lot of stress in that statement. You would expect him to be pretty calm here. Something isn't right."

"This could indicate that he may have been seeing her beforehand and that they ► were in a relationship.”

When quizzed if he “never doubted that Natalie was his soulmate,” Wagner responded: “That’s true. I think that it’s true.”

But, noted Michael: “He’s not telling the truth. In my opinion this was not a tremendous love.”

IN ANOTHER explosive development, a world-renowned body language expert has determined Wagner subconsciously admitted in a 2009 interview that he was on hand when the “West Side Story” actress fell off the yacht.

The interview, conducted by his daughter Katie Wagner, was posted on YouTube on March 19, 2009, and is titled, “The Friends of the Mission Viejo Library present Robert Wagner.”

Talking about Natalie, Wagner said: “We had a partnership. We were very much in love. As most of you know, she, we, she had an accident on our boat and she died and we were all left without her.”

Susan Constantine, president of Silent Messages LLC in Orlando, Fla., and an expert in criminal interrogations, pointed out how Wagner stumbled over his words – a classic Freudian slip!

“When you are trying to lie and you know the truth, it causes an extreme amount of stress,” Susan explained to The ENQUIRER.

“He starts off by saying ‘she’ had an accident. He then says, ‘we’ had an accident. But then he changes it back to ‘she had an accident’ because he realizes that he screwed up.

“In my analysis, that’s an admission of guilt right there.”

Wagner was also rubbing his fingertips together, wringing his hands and fiddling with his tie while he spoke, indicating “a tremendous amount of anxiety,” Susan noted.

The Splendour

She added: “When he said, ‘we were very much in love,’ he looks at the bottom of his foot! That’s not what you do when you say you’re in love with someone!”

After examining three different videos of Wagner discussing Natalie’s death, Susan concluded: “Overall, I did see multiple areas of deceptive behavior!”

IN HIS MEMOIR, Wagner wrote that he and actor Christopher Walken – Natalie’s co-star in the film “Brainstorm” – were locked in a booze-fueled argument when his wife decided to go to sleep in their stateroom on the 60-foot yacht.

After the dispute, Walken also headed off to bed. But when Wagner went to the couple’s room, Natalie wasn’t there, and he noticed a dinghy that had been tied to the yacht was missing.

As for what happened to Natalie, he wrote: “Nobody knows. There are only two possibilities; either she was trying to get away from the argument, or she was trying to tie the dinghy. But the bottom line is that nobody knows exactly what happened.”

Dennis Davern, skipper of the Splendour on the fateful night

Yet in a startling admission of guilt, Wagner added: “Yes, I blame myself.”

SPLENDOUR captain Dennis Davern was the first to blow the whistle on the alleged cover-up, claiming Wagner flew into a jealous rage and beat Natalie that night. He insisted foul play was involved.

Passing a polygraph test given by police, Dennis directly implicated Wagner and accused him of delaying the search for Natalie.

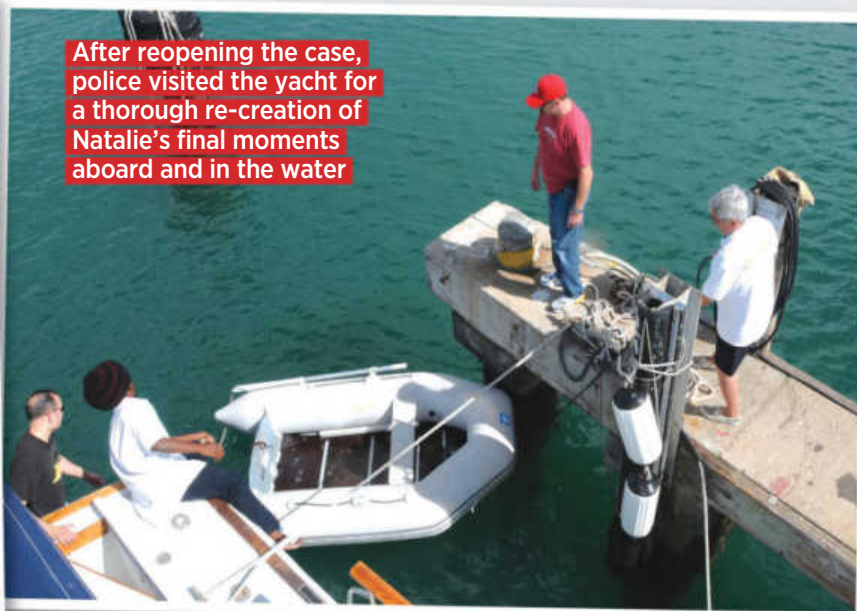

Investigators reopened the probe in 2011, and a year later the Medical Examiner’s Officer changed the official cause of death from “accidental drowning” to “drowning and other undetermined factors.”

IN HIS TELL-ALL tome, Wagner also wrote that he spent seven to eight days in a “catatonic” state after Natalie’s death.

But renowned New York clinical psychologist Dr. Sanam Hafeez told The ENQUIRER that Wagner’s description seemed exaggerated.

He appeared to be “overcompensating” by calling his

After reopening the case, police visited the yacht for a thorough re-creation of Natalie's final moments aboard and in the water condition "catatonic," she explained.

Dr. Hafeez said: "This could be him trying to show his innocence - meaning, 'I couldn't possibly have anything to do with this because if I did would I be in this type of shock?'"

IN A DRAMATIC turn of events, homicide detectives could use the forensic evidence obtained by The ENQUIRER to finally force Wagner to provide a "full confession," according to a source close to the case.

It would detail, for the first time, what caused Natalie to plunge to her death from the deck of the couple's yacht on that fateful Nov. 1981 night.

"A seasoned detective could confront him by saying, 'You were there that night! You know what happened, and you have to live with it until the day you die. You can free yourself from this nightmare!'" said Bo Dietl, a former NYPD homicide detective.

"The information obtained by The ENQUIRER showing Wagner being deceitful is the same as a polygraph test that could be used to break him down."

Concluded human lie detector Michael: "Robert Wagner's goose may be cooked." NE

10 QUESTIONS THE COPS WANT ANSWERED

ROBERT Wagner has repeatedly refused to meet with law enforcement authorities to discuss Natalie Wood's last hours. Here's what officials want to ask him, according to a law enforcement source.

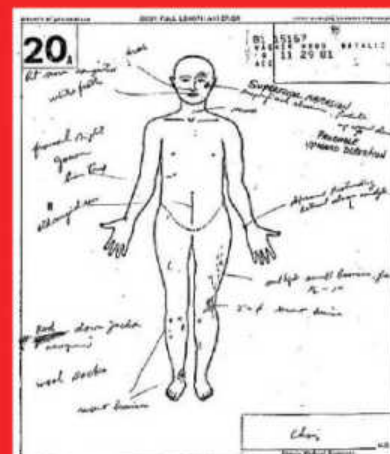

1. Did you hit, push or have any physical contact with Natalie before she disappeared off your yacht, Splendour, in November 1981?

2. In your book, "Pieces of My Heart," you claimed Natalie was slightly drunk, but Darvon was found in her system. Were you aware of her drug use?

3. Why did you wait more than five hours to alert the Coast Guard that your wife was missing?

4. Why weren't Natalie's two young daughters with you? It was Thanksgiving weekend, which is normally a time to spend with family.

5. Why did you take Splendour to the less crowded Isthmus Cove off Catalina Island instead of mooring it at its usual marina space closer to shore?

Natalie's autopsy diagrams

6. Why did you take Splendour so far out during bad weather?

7. Why did you smash a bottle of wine on the table during a trivial argument with Christopher Walken over an actor's dedication to career versus family?

8. Why did you choose November 29, 1981 - the day Natalie's body was found - to stop drinking?

9. Did you hear Natalie cry for help when she was in the water?

10. Why did you helicopter back to the mainland immediately after your wife's body was discovered, instead of waiting to identify her or retrieve her wedding ring?

O.J. SHARING CELL WITH CHILD SEX MONSTER

O.J. SIMPSON is bunking with a creepy new cell-mate – a child molester! He’s 54-year-old Barry Williams, and he was sentenced to life in 2011, a prison insider told The National ENQUIRER.

“Williams pleaded guilty to sexual assault and attempted sexual assault on a victim under the age of 16,” the source said.

But The ENQUIRER can reveal that Williams molested a female member of his own family – and he could bring all kinds of hell down on O.J.’s head!

“In prison you are judged by the people you hang with, and having a sex offender as a ‘cellie’ is as bad as it gets,” the prison snitch said. “It’s guilt by association. Behind bars, sex offenders and child molesters are the lowest of the low. Everyone despises them.”

It’s just the latest prison nightmare for O.J., whose last cellie – Willie “Smoke” Hartwell – threatened to “whup” O.J. after the two fell out.

Before that, O.J. got a beating from an Aryan Nation member.

HOOKER SHO CRAZED CLI LINKED TO MURDER

Suspected serial killer blown away as he tried to strangle her

A PROSTITUTE who shot a client with murder on his mind may have saved countless women from a bloodthirsty serial killer!

The National ENQUIRER has uncovered a bizarre connection between the fatal shooting in West Virginia and multiple murders of women in Nevada and Ohio! Neal Falls was shot to death with his own gun on July 18 while attacking an escort in Charleston, W.Va.

The 45-year-old psycho found the hooker – who wishes to be identified only as “Heather” – in an online ad she placed to advertise sexual services.

When Heather opened her apartment door, the would-be killer flashed a gun and grabbed her by the throat.

“Then he choked me,” Heather recalled. “He just wouldn’t let me get any air!”

Desperate to break free, Heather managed to grab a nearby rake.

“He put the gun down to get the rake out of my hand,” she said, “and I just grabbed the gun and shot over behind me.”

Heather’s lucky shot hit Falls in the head.

When police arrived they found four sets of handcuffs in the dead man’s pockets and a hair-raising stash of killing tools in his car.

His murder gear included a machete, knives, a shovel, plastic trash bags, axes, a sledgehammer, bleach and a bulletproof vest.

But now it appears Heather was just the latest victim in a string of murders ranging across several states!

SHOTS ENT 09 RS

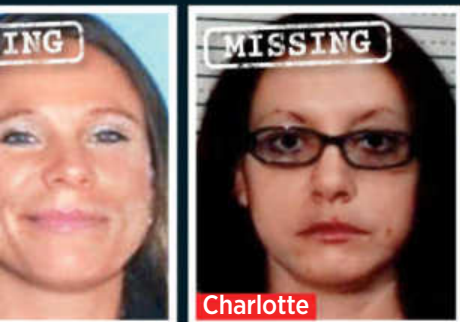

Chillicothe, Ohio!
The ENQUIRER has learned that nearly all of the victims in both states had a history of drug use and prostitution. The women in Las Vegas had been dismembered and some of their body parts were found in trash bags.

Falls may have been responsible for the deaths of three Las Vegas hookers between 2003 and 2006, while he was living in Henderson, Nev. – and up to six women in

In a disturbing twist, police also found a note in Falls' pocket that listed six more sex workers who had advertised their services online – five in West Virginia and one in San Diego, Calif.

"Whatever happened in that apartment ended whatever crime spree he may have been on," said Lt. Steve Cooper, chief of detectives for the Charleston Police Department.

"Whatever his intentions were, there will be no more victims!" NE

He ends bloodbath by cutting off his hand

A PSYCHO killer is accused of decapitating his wife and her two dogs before plucking out his left eye and hacking off his left hand – declaring, "God has forgiven me!"

The city of Phoenix is reeling over the bloodbath, and The National ENQUIRER has learned the victim's outraged daughter is blasting bungling "experts" for her mother's gruesome death.

Horried detectives found the headless body of Trina Heisch, 49, and her pets in the squalid home she shared with Kenneth Wakefield, 47.

Trina's mutilated corpse was discovered on July 25 in the closet where the born-again Christian often went to pray.

She reportedly married Wakefield after the couple met at the Arizona State Mental Hospital.

She'd been committed in 2000 after being found "guilty, except insane" on charges of attempted second-degree murder in the stabbing of her son, 15.

Wakefield was committed in 2004 after also being found guilty of attempting to murder a family member.

He was released in September of 2014, but the Arizona Psychiatric Security Review Board met two months later to discuss revoking Wakefield's release.

Instead, the homicidal maniac was left free to allegedly murder his doomed wife!

Concerned neighbor, George Loney, discovered the grisly crime scene. "They're mentally ill," he said.

As if that weren't recognition enough, Loren received a congratulatory call from another veteran - former senator from Kansas, 92-year-old Bob Dole.

BILL COSBY USED WIFE MISTRESS TO SCORE RAPE DRUGS!

Twisted gynecologist would laugh as he filled out prescriptions

EVIL schemer Bill Cosby betrayed the trust of his unsuspecting wife, Camille – and his mistress – to obtain the powerful “thigh opener” sedatives he used in sex attacks on dozens of other women!

Former physician Vicki Hufnagel, 65, told The National ENQUIRER in a world exclusive interview that the comic, accused of sexually assaulting more than 99 women over a 43-year period, had his wife’s prominent Beverly Hills gynecologist write him prescriptions for Quaaludes.

Vicki claimed she personally saw Dr. Maclyn Wade write a prescription for Cosby even though the star wasn’t his patient. At the time Dr. Wade was head of the obstetrics and gynecology department at Cedars-Sinai Hospital in Los Angeles, where Vicki was a resident from 1976 to 1980.

VICKI SAID she first met the comic at Dr. Wade’s office. “When I entered, I saw Bill and his wife, Camille,” Vicki said, adding she was told Camille was there for her regular exam.

“A nurse came and took Mrs. Cosby to an examination room down the hall. As soon as she left, Bill began thanking Dr. Wade for making the arrangements for him. I was a little confused what was going on,” Vicki admitted.

“Dr. Wade told Bill that it wasn’t any problem, seeing both his wife and girlfriend at the same time! He said, ‘Our building is big enough for both of them.’ And then they both laughed.”

Vicki followed Dr. Wade into Camille’s examination room, where he performed a check-up. After the exam, while Camille was getting dressed, Vicki, Cosby and Dr. Wade returned to his office. That’s when Dr. Wade asked the comedian if he needed anything, or if he still needed stuff for traveling, Vicki claimed.

“Bill told Dr. Wade, ‘Yes, I am constantly traveling between L.A. and New York City, and I’m not getting enough sleep.’

“Dr. Wade ... grabbed a prescription pad and filled it out and signed it. He then handed the prescription to me to hand to Bill. When I had the slip in my hand, I noticed it was made out to Bill Cosby and it was for Quaaludes. I was in shock.

“I couldn’t believe what was happening. This was his wife and mistress’ gynecologist who just handed Bill a prescription for Quaaludes. He wasn’t Bill’s doctor. There wasn’t a chart nor any file on his desk. He didn’t examine him. Plain and simple, he wasn't a patient of Dr. Wade.

"Before Bill left, he and the doctor had a good laugh about their exploits.

"Bill said to him, 'Maybe next time I'll need three exam rooms,'" added Vicki.

Later, when she asked Dr. Wade why he wrote the prescription, "He said to me, 'This is what we are about. We are a hospital for the stars, and you better get used to it.'"

Vicki had her medical license revoked by the Medical

Board of California twice for improper billing practices and unprofessional conduct. She does not have a current medical license.

She also sued Dr. Wade in 1985, claiming she was terminated after she broke off an affair with him.

Dr. Wade died in April 2001.

VICKI TOOK A polygraph test administered by a certified examiner and was found to show no deceit in her answers to questions about this story.

"I'm coming forward to alert the public that Bill Cosby is a predator," Vicki said.

"I'm sickened by the possibility that he may have used the Quaaludes given to him by Dr. Wade to sexually assault women." NE

NEW VICTIMS REVEAL THEIR 'HUMILIATION'

THREE more women have joined the nearly 100 who claim they were molested by sex monster Bill Cosby, including actress Eden Tirl, who said she was groped while locked in a dressing room with the predator when she appeared on the hit series, "The Cosby Show."

Another actress and a flight attendant recounted the harrowing details of their experiences at the hands of the disgraced TV dad, who has denied any wrongdoing.

"He gloated over my humiliation," said Linda Ridgeway Whitedeer. "He had planned it. I was in shock."

Linda explained through sobs that Cosby had forced her to perform oral sex by grabbing her by the hair on a movie set in 1971. She said she'd kept it secret for fear of upsetting his wife, Camille, who has stood by his side for more than 50 years.

Flight attendant Colleen Hughes revealed that Cosby had been on one of her flights in the early '70s. They chatted and she'd agreed to meet him for lunch in a hotel. After Colleen drank some champagne given to her by Cosby, she passed out. She awoke some time later covered in semen, and there was no sign of Cosby.

WATCH out, Kym Johnson – your new boyfriend is a real shark!

That's the warning actress Danielle Vasinova has for the "Dancing with the Stars" cutie, predicting the leggy Aussie will be "chewed up and spit out" by Danielle's ex-lover, "Shark Tank" predator Robert Herjavec!

"Your new boyfriend is a cruel control freak who humiliated me when he left me for you!" declared Danielle.

"Don't make the same mistakes I did!"

The millionaire mogul, 52, promised her marriage and a lifetime of happiness, 32-year-old Danielle told The National ENQUIRER.

Instead, she claimed he lied about being separated from his wife, coldly dumped her for Kym and left her homeless!

"Robert is known as the 'nice' shark on the show, but he has a dark side," she said.

Their relationship began with a chance meeting at the Los Angeles premiere of "Fast & Furious 6" in May 2013, Danielle explained.

The Canadian businessman swept her off her feet, wooing her with a lavish lifestyle of private jets, posh hotels and even a visit with the Obamas at the White House.

"He was lovely and charming, and I fell for him," Danielle said. "We talked about getting a yacht, having kids and even buying Cher's house in Malibu. It was a magical fairytale life!"

Robert even flew her to New York City where they checked into the Ritz-Carlton and had their first intimate encounter.

But their sex romp was a colossal letdown.

"It wasn't good," Danielle said. "It was awkward and

"Afterwards he forced me to sleep in the room next door."

Robert rented a plush $4,000-a-month apartment in Los Angeles for Danielle, but after she moved in, their relationship soured.

"I was just an accessory," she said. "I felt like a doll on his arm. I lost my own identity, and realized he got the apartment to control me."

The father of three turned stalker-like, calling, emailing and texting her constantly, she alleged. He also appeared unannounced at her sister's New York bridal shower last fall.

"It was awkward," Danielle said. "Robert also tried to get it on with a girlfriend of mine on the way home. It was like he was humiliating me."

ABOUT A YEAR AGO, Robert hit rock bottom when his wife, Diane, came across his email correspondence with Danielle, and told him to get out, Danielle recalled.

"He called me and said, 'I'm going to kill myself!'" she said.

"He'd told me he was separated. Robert said he hadn't been with his wife in years, they slept in separate bedrooms and they were getting a divorce."

Despite that, after Robert's suicide threat, Danielle stayed with him.

She also agreed to live with him in another upscale apartment in West Hollywood.

But the couple began arguing nonstop, and shortly after they moved in, "Dancing with the Stars" came calling.

"I encouraged Robert to do the show because I am a fan," Danielle said. "More fool me!"

The entrepreneur began rehearsing with pro dancer Kym while Danielle was organizing their apartment.

But then Danielle got the shock of her life.

"I went to our condo to let myself in, but the key didn't work, so I called the staff," she said.

"They said, 'You no longer have access to this building.'"

"He swept me off my feet and then he swept me under the rug," she said. NE

PORTIA DE ROSSI

"Ever since I was 12, I would starve myself daily and then binge after the job was over," said Mrs. Ellen DeGeneres, who once slipped to a frightening 82 pounds. While on "Ally McBeal," Portia claimed she lived on 300 calories and 20 laxatives a day! "Losing that much fluid and nutrients creates an immediate danger. It can cause a fatal irregular heartbeat," said Dr. Stuart Fischer, author of "The Park Avenue Diet."

Posh's eating problems started as a Spice Girl, when she was pressured to use liquid meal substitutes. She later began binge eating, writing in her autobiography that she once ate "10 bowls of Frosties cereal" in one disgusting sitting. "The all-or-nothing approach could be deadly," warned Aesha Waks, author of "Model Body."

MERCEDES 'MJ' JAVID

"I'm not striving to be thin," the "Shahs of Sunset" star has admitted. She also confessed to using speed to lose weight, dropping 20 pounds last year. But she's packed on the weight again. "Yo-yo-ing will only lead to illness, frustration and despair," said Dr. Fischer.

I felt like a fat cow.” She later trimmed to 160 – only to gain most of it back. Obesity and severe dieting put a person “at risk of 65 illnesses, from heart disease to multiple cancers. She’s extremely vulnerable,” said Dr. Fischer.

“Food to me is what alcohol is to the alcoholic,” the singer said after checking into an addiction facility – when she ballooned to 245 pounds in 2006! She’s dropped five dress sizes, “but she still has 20 pounds to go before she’s considered healthy,” said Dr. Fischer.

ROSEANNE BARR

“I had my entire digestive system removed, so I should look thinner,” the comedy queen joked of undergoing the Fobi Pouch procedure in 1998. Roseanne shed a gut-busting 150 pounds to reach her current weight of 160. But Dr. Fischer warned such procedures “alter the anatomy of the stomach. Why not just put duct tape over your mouth? This is not treating the addiction.”

Dr. Fischer warned: "These shifts have slowed her metabolism so much, she'll gain weight if she eats a saltine. It will haunt her for her entire life."

JESSICA SIMPSON

After her massive expansion to 210 pounds during her 2012 pregnancy, the singer said: "I was happy to be gaining weight and eating." She then went on a drastic vegan diet, dropping to a frightening 93 pounds. "That kind of swing puts her health at extreme risk," said Dr. Fischer. "It also doesn't seem possible without pills, binging or purging."

"Dieting is tough ... my specialties are spaghetti, brownies and cookies!" quipped the pop star. Mom-of-two Brit offsets a 3,000-calorie-a-day junk food habit with intense workouts and that's bad, Aesha said. HOT NEWS: SPICES MAY EXTEND LIFE!

JALAPEÑOS might add years to your life! Research suggests hot foods can boost metabolism, prevent gastric damage and reduce the risk of heart disease and cancer. The study is based on a sample of half a million people in China with a diet rich in spicy stuff. People who ate spicy foods once or twice a week had a 10 percent lower risk of dying early – and those who indulged three to seven times a week had a 14 percent lower risk. So we say pass the chili pepper!

BEATING BUNIONS!

BUNIONS are common, irritating and possibly more dangerous than you suspect! The symptoms include pain, blisters and bursitis of the big toe joint, which may appear red and stick out from the edge of the foot. Surgery is never a quick or painless fix, so exhaust your other options first. Find the most comfortable shoes. Use a bunion pad or take a pain reliever. If all else fails, see a podiatrist – but never ignore bunions. Left untreated, they can cause permanent damage and even arthritis!

How to fight off infection

IF YOUR colds and flu last too long, or you often get athlete's foot – you're prone to infection! But you can improve your odds of staying well. First, get more sleep. Your body has better restorative powers when it's rested. Change your toothbrush monthly, because it gathers bacteria daily. Clean your bathtub at least once a week. Your hands come in contact with bacteria from multiple sources all day long, so wash them frequently. Finally, supplement your daily diet with vitamin C, which boosts immunity levels!

PURELY INSPIRED WEIGHT LOSS

PURELY Inspired Extra Virgin Coconut Oil Plus Green Coffee serves up the hot ingredients for healthy weight loss. It offers 1.8 grams of coconut oil per serving and is a great source of medium chain triglycerides. The rapid-release capsules provide quick dispersal and are both dairy and gluten free! And if that isn't enough good news, when you buy 40 soft gels, you'll get 40 more for free! At Walgreens for $13.99 and Target for $9.99.

NATURAL JOINT PAIN SOLUTIONS

ARTHRITIS and joint pain affect nearly 30 million Americans, but natural treatments can offer relief. Epsom salts ease joint inflammation and improve muscle function. Herbal drinks act as a dietary supplement and provide a boost in nutrients like calcium, vitamin D and fatty acids that help ward off pain. Acupuncture boosts healing endorphins. Finally, being active eases pain by reducing the weight that puts pressure on your joints!

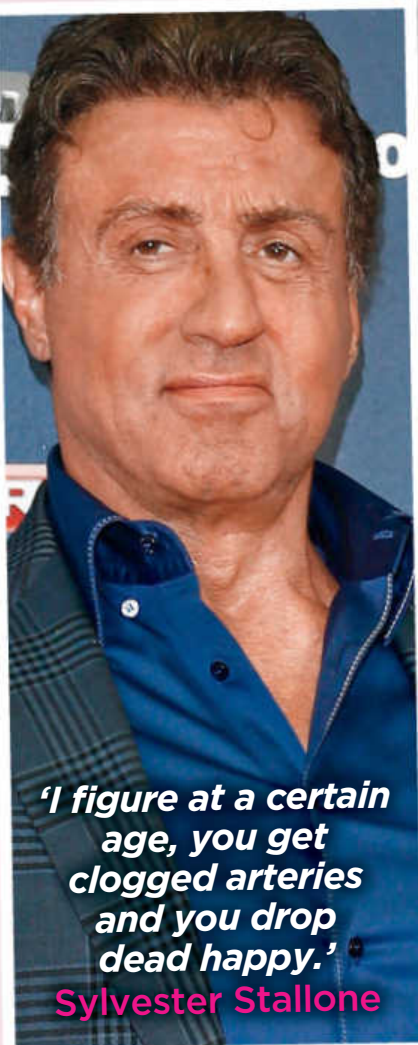

ARE NATURAL SUNSCREENS TOUGH ENOUGH?

THE sunscreen sold by actress Jessica Alba's Honest Company has come under fire for allegedly not delivering on its promise of sun protection. The product boasts all natural ingredients – including zinc oxide, an effective barrier against both UVA and UVB rays. But it's hard to rub in and is often dispersed unevenly. Also, consumers often apply less lotion as their vacation goes on, falsely believing a tan safeguards the skin. For the best protection, use a diligent and thorough application for all types of sunscreen.

HOW TO KEEP YOUR ARTERIES CLEAR!

Try these natural boosts to keep an open road to your heart!

'I figure at a certain age, you get clogged arteries and you drop dead happy.'

Sylvester Stallone

OBVIOUSLY, Sylvester Stallone knows how to hit the gym – but even a 69-year-old action star faces a daily fight to keep his arteries open! Fortunately, there are natural ways to beat that health risk and keep the blood flowing.

1 ROSEMARY AND SAGE

These common herbs have a very uncommon benefit – they're packed with carnosic acid, which burns off lots of arterial plaque. You can buy them as herbal supplements!

2 TOMATO SAUCE

Tomatoes offer lots of the antioxidant lycopene, which reduces plaque in the arteries, but the antioxidant works even better when combined with fat. Hello, pizza and pasta!

3 COENZYME Q10

This natural substance, which can be found in beef, sardines, mackerel and peanuts, can also be taken as a supplement capsule. Q10 is vital for undoing damage caused by artery-clogging trans-fatty acids!

4 CAPERS

These flavorful buds have always been part of a healthy Mediterranean diet. They lower triglyceride and cholesterol levels, while cutting back the formation of arterial plaque! Toss 'em in a sauce or salad.

5 BROCCOLI, KALE, CABBAGE AND SPINACH

Your mother was right about "green, leafy vegetables!" All come packed with an antioxidant known as lutein, which reduces the thickness of carotid artery walls.

6 DARK CHOCOLATE

Here's another dream come true! Dark chocolate has flavonoids, also found in a variety of fruits and vegetables, that slow down the development of arterial plaque for some very sweet results.

LORNA & LIZA FEUD BLOWS UP!

*Minnelli's
snub as Luft battles cancer*

JUDY Garland's daughter Lorna Luft's battle with breast cancer has reignited a bitter feud with her half-sister Liza Minnelli, sources told The National ENQUIRER.

The two have been battling off and on since 1994, and the famed "Cabaret" star was MIA when Lorna recently underwent major cancer surgery, according to sources.

"They are the most dysfunctional family in Hollywood," said an insider.

"Lorna is fit to be tied that Liza's gone missing just when she needs her the most."

Lorna, 62, was first diagnosed with stage 2 breast cancer in 2012. She had a lumpectomy and six rounds of chemotherapy.

At the time, Liza performed at a cancer fundraiser with Lorna, despite a fall that broke her wrist a day earlier.

Sadly, as The ENQUIRER reported in April, Lorna's cancer returned. She got the news while touring the United Kingdom in a musical tribute to her legendary mother, "Judy - The Songbook of Judy Garland."

Sources revealed she rushed home after being "advised by her medical team that she required further treatment and extensive surgery."

On Aug. 5 Lorna updated her status on her Facebook page.

"I want to share with you that I have undergone mastectomy surgery and I am recovering well surrounded by family, friends and an outstanding team of doctors and nurses," she wrote.

But Liza, 69, wasn't among those supporting her recovery, according to the insider.

"Lorna basically went from her tour right to the hospital for major surgery, and never heard a peep from Liza," the insider added. "Now it looks like their feud is back on, if it was ever really over."

Their estrangement began in 1994 when Lorna took a tough-love stance over Liza's substance abuse problems.

"That's the way it goes with Liza and Lorna," said the source. "One day they're all lovey-dovey, and the next it's World War III!"

'Brady Bunch' star BARRY'S CASH FLOW CRISIS!

BARRY Williams, who played Greg on "The Brady Bunch," is bleeding cash and watching helplessly as his bank accounts dwindle, The National ENQUIRER has learned.

Almost 50 years after he became a beloved TV icon, he has made the shocking claims in an income and expense report filed in connection with his nasty court battle against ex-girlfriend Elizabeth Kennedy, who gave birth to their daughter, Samantha, in 2012 and claims the former star has insufficiently supported the child since.

Elizabeth said Barry, 60, is secretly a multimillionaire with access to an $11 million trust fund – an allegation his camp called "nonsense."

Indeed, the newly filed court documents obtained by The ENQUIRER paint a much different picture. According to Barry's filings, he works 70 hours per week as an "entertainer/producer," but makes no income from that profession – and he didn't earn anything last month, either.

He does, however, receive roughly $3,248 in dividends/interest per month, as well as $2,927 in rental property income, according to the documents. Overall, Barry's filing shows he actually loses $12,542 in an average month.

Gilbert's running for Congress, but owes you the taxpayer $473,078!

OH NO! Say it ain't so! Goody-goody Melissa Gilbert – who inspired a generation of girls with her wholesome portrayal of "Little House on the Prairie" sweetheart Laura Ingalls – has just been unmasked as a deadbeat who owes a staggering $473,078 in back taxes!

The red-faced facts came to light after the "Dancing with the Stars" alum threw her hat in the ring as a Democrat running for Congress in Michigan's 8th District, where she lives with third husband, actor Timothy Busfield, who starred on ABC's "Thirtysomething."

"I'm running for Congress to make life a little easier for all the families who feel they have fallen through the cracks in today's economy," she said. "I believe building a new economy is a team effort, and we need to bring fresh voices to the table to get the job done."

Republican opponent Mike

Bishop quickly attacked.

"Melissa Gilbert can afford to have a stylist and a Louis Vuitton collar for her dog, but cannot pay her taxes," his campaign manager slammed in a statement. "Her Hollywood values are totally out of whack with the district."

Melissa, 51, owes the IRS $360,551 and California $112,527. She explained that her towering tax bill, and the lien the IRS slapped on her in February, stemmed from unemployment, a bad economy and a messy divorce from second husband Bruce Boxleitner.

"Like so many people across the nation, the recession hit me hard and there was a perfect storm of financial difficulty for me," she lamented.

The former freckle-faced star said she has negotiated a payment schedule with the IRS – and she definitely plans to pay off the full amount by the year 2024.

That's great news for the people at the IRS, but the fine folks in Michigan's 8th District are left to wonder how Melissa will handle its budget when she can't balance her own! NE

IN THE latest case of child molestation to rock Hollywood, a top Tinseltown icon stands accused of raping '80s teen idol Corey Haim!

A source identified the sicko - who has children of his own - to The National ENQUIRER during our blockbuster special investigation into convicted pedophiles who have worked with underage stars.

We also uncovered these other creeps, accused of a slew of other sickening crimes documented in hundreds of pages of court documents:

■ Composer FERNANDO RIVAS, who created music for "Sesame Street" and Disney. Rivas also created and sent child pornography over the Internet, which grim-faced prosecutors said included a horrifying video of a naked and restrained 4-year-old girl. ■ JASON JAMES MURPHY, a casting agent on kid-friendly fare "School of Rock" and "Bad News Bears."

Murphy was also a registered sex offender who once kidnapped and molested an 8-year-old boy.

■ Manager BOB VILLARD, who mentored child actors Tobey Maguire and Leonardo DiCaprio.

He pleaded no contest to a misdemeanor after thousands of photos of boys in skimpy bathing suits were found at his home. Villard finally went to prison following another no contest plea in 2005 to committing a lewd act on a 13-year-old boy who sought him out as an acting coach.

■ Actor BRIAN PECK, who admitted in 2004 that he'd molested a child protégé.

Despite that, the registered sex offender has continued to work in Hollywood, playing a sex education teacher in 2009's "Queerentine!" and working as a dialogue coach on the 2010 kiddie movie "Jack and the Beanstalk."

What's more, The ENQUIRER has learned that Peck was allegedly hired by the Tinseltown kingpin at the center of the Haim sex scandal!

ally assaulted by a man while filming the coming-of-age drama "Lucas" in 1985.

"[I was] raped, so to speak, when I was about 14-and-a-half years old," Haim said.

Haim declined to publicly identify the creep. But before he died, he named his attacker to two sources who have spoken exclusively to The ENQUIRER.

"Corey had bottled everything up, but he finally told me what happened when he was in his mid-20s," revealed one source, a longtime confidant of the late star of the cult classic "The Lost Boys." "The man was the first of two who molested him. These men chewed him up and spat him out."

"Friends said Corey should sue them. But Corey told me, 'No one would ever believe me! I'm a big star, but ----- [his first molester] is bigger.'"

"Corey was afraid that if he named him, Hollywood would ostracize him."

Actor-director Dominick Brascia, who said Haim was 14 years old when they met, confirmed the man's name to The ENQUIRER.

Haim was so confused by the sexual encounter with the man that "he fell in love with him," Brascia claimed.

Consumed by fears he might be gay, Haim "wanted to kill himself," Brascia recalled.

BRASCIA, 58, vehemently denied speculation that he was one of the actor's two molesters.

According to Brascia, he was linked to the molestation scandal after Feldman claimed in his 2013 memoir, "Coreyography," that he'd been exploited by powerful Hollywood pedophiles.

Brascia co-starred with Feldman and Haim in the 1997 comedy "Busted," and said he was so incensed by the inaccurate innuendo that he posted a denial of the book's account on Amazon.com.

"People have contacted me accusing me of being someone named Tony in [Feldman's] book," he wrote.

"Fact I have NEVER been arrested or even [accused of] anything illegal."

Brascia told The ENQUIRER that he also complained to Feldman's publisher, St. Martin's Press, and the firm sent him an apology, insisting: "It was neither Mr. Feldman's nor St. Martin's intention to identify you, or to publicly accuse you of any wrongdoing."

MEANWHILE, Matthew Valentinas, producer of "An Open Secret," a documentary about Hollywood sex abuse, told The ENQUIRER: "Animals have more protection and rights than children. At least there are animal wranglers on set."

Anne Henry, who runs the non-profit BizParentz, which helps families of kids in the industry, said her film highlights the need for legal reforms.

A recently enacted California statute would have prevented a registered sex offender from coaching a child actor.

But she pointed out, a convicted pedophile "could still work on set as an actor or crew member." NE

Caitlyn and Candis get really close dancing to Boy George and Co.

EVEN as a woman, Caitlyn Jenner is setting incredible Olympic records!

In just a few months, the glamorous gold medalist met, dated and committed to "the one," in a spur-of-the-moment ceremony - a fantastic feat that takes most gals many years to accomplish.

"It's true!" a family insider spilled to The National ENQUIRER in an exclusive interview. "Caitlyn knows what she wants and goes for it."

That's putting it mildly. Not only did Caitlyn snag a sexy partner weeks out of the girl gate, but insiders said she's found her soulmate - a person so sensationally similar to herself the match must have been made in heaven!

"They are perfect for each other," the insider gushed.

"It was love at first sight for both of them."

Caitlyn's new sweetie is Candis Cayne, a part-time actress with a handful of Hollywood film and TV roles to her credit but is better known as a singer and entertainer on New York City's gay nightclub circuit.

Being also born a man makes the bond between Candis, 44, and the 65-year-old Caitlyn even stronger and more unique. Candis' birth name is Brendan McDaniel.

"Candis has been through the exact same struggles and confusion that Caitlyn is going through now," the insider explained.

According to the family source, the leggy lovebirds exchanged vows immediately after Caitlyn's naming ceremony on July 23 at her Malibu home. In a twist of fate, the

Olivia and Chloe have gotten bad press for their different looks SEVENTIES pop sensation Olivia Newton-John and daughter Chloe Lattanzi are Hollywood's least recognizable drastic-plastic, mother-daughter duo!

Olivia, 66, and Chloe, 29, put their profoundly enhanced images on display Aug. 7 - looking like entirely different women!

"Rather than being rejuvenating, Olivia's work is image-altering," said plastic surgeon Dr. Otto Placik, who has not treated either woman. "Chloe's work is forced and exaggerated." He believes mother and daughter have had a full litany of procedures - and he's not alone in his diagnosis.

Added Dr. Lyle Back: "I see pull signs that Olivia had a face-lift and a rhinoplasty."

While the surgeons concur that Olivia's procedures are not unusual for a woman of her age, they believe Chloe's work has been radical and unnecessary.

"Her forehead is remarkably smooth - the likely result of injections. Her nasal bridge is unusually straight, which points to rhinoplasty. She seems to have had an exaggerated lip lift. Her cheeks are way too round," said Dr. Placik.

As for Chloe's boobs, Dr. Back deemed her extreme enhancement a big mistake: "Her breast implants are simply too round, too big and way too fake!" NE

TIPS@NATIONALENQUIRER.COM

WITH her 2016 presidential campaign in full swing, Hillary Clinton is hiding two shocking health secrets – multiple sclerosis and a series of strokes!

In a bombshell exclusive, The National ENQUIRER has learned the 67-year-old Democratic front-runner is suffering from the early stages of the debilitating disease MS.

What's more, sources said the medical troubles could prevent her from ever making it to the Oval Office!

"Hillary's past health problems are down to MS," a political insider close to her and husband Bill told The ENQUIRER.

"She's been working with her staff to keep the medical drama under wraps, and she's doing her best to deal with it."

BUT OTHER sources claimed Hillary has suffered three secret strokes, and she's flat-out lying about her failing health!

"Let's face it, Hillary has had a problem telling the truth her whole life. She's always exaggerated how good or bad things are to suit whatever image she wants to project on any given day," an insider dished.

"When it comes to her strokes there's stony silence! She wants to make believe they never happened!"

Out on the campaign trail Hillary's energy level "seems good so far," confided another close source.

"But behind the scenes she appears exhausted, dazed and confused at times."

Her most trusted aide, Huma Abedin, even sleeps in her hotel room to keep an eye on her "in case there's a medical emergency," the insider explained.

MULTIPLE SCLEROSIS, which affects 2.5 million people worldwide, is an autoimmune disease that affects the brain, spinal cord and other areas of the body.

Tragically, it has no cure, and another Washington, D.C., insider said the ailment could short-circuit Hillary's White House run!

"There are already questions about her health," according to the source.

Hillary has a history of blackouts, falls, memory loss, blinding headaches, vision problems and collapses dating back at least a decade.

In 2005 she fainted during a luncheon speech in Buffalo, N.Y.

Four years later, then-Secretary of State Hillary broke her right elbow in a mysterious fall in a U.S. State Department garage.

In 2011 Hillary collapsed while boarding a flight in Yemen, but insisted she'd simply slipped.

In May 2014 GOP strategist Karl Rove sparked a furor when he publicly accused Hillary of being brain-damaged after she suffered a head injury from a fall in Dec. 2012.

As The ENQUIRER reported at the time, Hillary collapsed at home, striking her head. She sustained a concussion and was hospitalized for three nights. ▶

BOMBSHELL!

Trusted aide Huma Abedin sleeps in Hillary's hotel room to keep an eye on her at all times

Doctors discovered she had a blood clot in a vein found between the brain and the skull behind her right ear. She was given blood thinners to dissolve the clot.

But Karl charged her team was covering up what really happened, and insisted Hillary "had some kind of traumatic brain injury."

Hillary was later seen wearing glasses with a prism designed to correct double vision, which is a recognizable symptom of MS.

"With the symptoms of falling, unstable balance and vision problems, she could have early symptoms of MS that went undiagnosed for years," Dr. Leslie R. Matthews, assistant professor of surgery at Morehouse School of Medicine in Atlanta, told The ENQUIRER.

Dr. Matthews, who has not treated Hillary, added: "Sometimes MS lays dormant for years and then becomes symptomatic later in life. It's never too late to develop MS. Certainly the stress of political life would exacerbate the symptoms."

The insider said: "It makes you wonder how long Hillary has been hiding her condition."

"Bill and their daughter, Chelsea, have to be extremely concerned."

Whether Hillary's long list of medical woes is due to MS or strokes, it's clear she's being far from truthful about her health.

A source added: "Hillary will stop at nothing to achieve her dream of being the first woman president."

"She is ignoring doctors who are telling her, 'Running for president will kill you.' She believes she was put on Earth for this, and there's no convincing her otherwise."

DECLINING VISION!

DIZZINESS!

NUMBNESS!

HOW HILLARY WILL SUFFER IN THE OVAL OFFICE

IF HILLARY Clinton is elected president, she could experience a significant physical deterioration from multiple sclerosis during her four years in the Oval Office, an expert said.

"Declining vision will very likely complicate Hillary's first year," a medical expert told The National ENQUIRER.

"Symptoms will include blurry vision and colors that look dull or washed out. Other eye conditions linked to MS bring on double vision and involuntary eye movements."

By her second year in the White House, she could also suffer numbness or tingling sensations, along with feelings of intense heat or cold.

By her third year, Hillary could experience weakness, fatigue and clumsiness, combined with heaviness in each of her limbs.

As her term comes to a close, Hillary could become prone to frequent falls.

"She may also have trouble grasping small objects," said the source. "All these problems can be compounded by other common MS symptoms, such as dizziness and tremors."

But the expert cautioned that MS symptoms may not prevent the former secretary of state from carrying out her presidential duties.

"On the plus side, Hillary appears to have good genes," said the source. "Her father lived to 82, and her mom, Dorothy, lived to the ripe old age of 92!" NE

SEX SECRETS

FRANK TOOK TO THE GRAVE!

Gifford cheated on all his 3 wives

IT'S the sleazy secret Frank Gifford kept closely guarded – he was a serial adulterer!

Frank – who passed away on Aug. 9 at 84 – two-timed his first wife, Maxine, with second wife Astrid, and then he cheated on Astrid with third wife Kathie Lee!

And while wed to Kathie Lee the “Monday Night Football” host was famously caught in a sex romp with flight attendant Suzen Johnson!

Now, in an exclusive interview with The National ENQUIRER, Astrid opened up about carrying on a four-year affair with Frank while he was wed to Maxine, his college sweetheart.

“He was married, and I thought I could deal with it. But I couldn’t. I loved him. I needed to get away and make a new start,” 72-year-old Astrid told The ENQUIRER.

She moved to Vail, Colo., in 1977, and Frank’s “Monday Night Football” partner, Don Meredith, and his wife visited her that Christmas.

“I was still very close with them,” Astrid revealed.

“I had my little life out there, and I guess they told Frank. So he came out and said he wanted to marry me. He just showed up at the door!”

Six weeks later they tied the knot. Their eight-year marriage ended in 1986.

Frank may not have been as nice as people perceived; inset, with Kathie Lee in 2010

Brave Jimmy Carter: a true trouper

IT'S THE brave last days for cancer-stricken former President Jimmy Carter, who friends said may not live long enough to see his 91st birthday in October.

“Jimmy wants to go out with his boots on,” said a source close to the hardworking ex-Prez.

“He’s trying to alter his busy schedule to accommodate treatment, but he knows at his age and the fact that the cancer has metastasized to other parts of his body, it’s only a matter of time.

“It’s hard to know until doctors give him a more detailed prognosis,” the source added. “But he said, ‘In the end, I want to go out holding the hand of my beloved wife, Rosalynn! That’s the only thing I ask.’”

The Nobel Peace Prize winner said in a statement released by the Carter Center in Atlanta that “recent liver surgery revealed that I have cancer that now is in other parts of my body. I will be re-arranging my schedule as necessary so I can undergo treatment by physicians at Emory Healthcare. A more complete public statement will be made when facts are known, possibly next week.”

Recently, The Carter Center disclosed he had undergone elective surgery to “remove a small mass in his liver.”

“Jimmy is telling friends he is at peace with whatever unfolds,” a Carter family insider told The National ENQUIRER.

“That’s the kind of man he is. The fact is though that we were all shocked by the diagnosis. Of course we knew about the family’s history with cancer, and of course he is 90.”

Carter may have just months to live

Hookups!

All the latest in love & war!

Everything's Jake with Susan Sarandon!

SUSAN Sarandon has her sights on a new boy toy – 34-year-old Jake Gyllenhaal.

The “Thelma & Louise” star, 68, split from Tim Robbins, who is 12 years her junior, in 2009 after 22 years, and then quickly hooked up with Jonathan Bricklin, 38.

But now the cruising cougar has made “Southpaw” hunk Jake her primary prey!

The pair set tongues wagging on Aug. 6 when they snuggled up while posing for pics at a Broadway play in New York City.

“The rumor is they’ve been hooking up on the down-low,” said a source. “A lot of people are hoping they go with the flow and give it a shot!”

TAYLOR SENDS A WARNING TO MIRANDA!

TAYLOR Swift has a message for model Miranda Kerr: “Your boyfriend is bad news!”

The “Shake It Off” singer dated billionaire Evan Spiegel, 25, in early 2014, and is bitter that the Snapchat CEO dumped her by text.

“She wanted Miranda to know Evan is a womanizer and was seeing other girls behind her back when they were dating,” said a source.

Miranda, 32, got the message and called Taylor to hear more about the man she’s been dating since July.

“They talked on the phone for a long time, and Miranda was fascinated to hear that Taylor believes that Evan’s just dating her to boost his image,” the source added.

“Taylor’s convinced that Miranda will be Evan’s next ‘love ’em and leave ’em lady,’ and she’s got Miranda worried she might be right!”

FUNNY GIRL AMY HAS NO MAN TO SMILE ABOUT!

RED-hot comic Amy Schum-er’s got everything she can possibly want – except a man!

Her blockbuster flick, “Trainwreck,” is expected to top $100 million at the box office, and she’s on the short list of every major Hollywood casting director.

“But behind all of the glitz and glamour, Amy’s down in the dumps that she can’t find love,” said a close friend.

The wisecracking blonde, 34, hasn’t been in a relationship since dating fellow comedian Anthony Jeselnik in 2013.

“It’s not like she’s looking for marriage,” said the source. “Guys tend to put her in the friend zone. She’s hoping that hanging out with A-list gal pals like Jennifer Lawrence will change all that.”

Who's Doing Who?

Playboy heir Cooper Hefner – son of Hugh – is engaged to “Harry Potter” cutie Scarlett Byrne. We’re sure they’ll have a magical future together!

After months of constant PDA, “Twilight” star Kristen Stewart and gal pal Alicia Cargile haven’t been photographed together in weeks.

“She’s gone!” Daryl Hall is still partners with John Oates but his wife, Amanda, has handed him divorce papers after six years of marriage.

All The BUZZ

Enquiring minds want to know

The folks from U.N.C.L.E.

Where's the original '60s cast now?

THERE'S a big-screen reboot of "The Man from U.N.C.L.E." – an instant small-screen spy sensation in 1964 – with "Superman" hunk Henry Cavill as suave secret agent Napoleon Solo, and Armie Hammer as his Russian partner Illya Kuryakin.

Hugh Grant oversees the duo as Mr. Waverly – but you won't spy cameos from the original "U.N.C.L.E." cast. Here's what they're up to while their old characters go to the movies ...

ROBERT VAUGHN

The original Napoleon Solo is also the only surviving star of the 1960 western, "The Magnificent Seven." He earned a Ph.D in Communications in 1970 – two years after "U.N.C.L.E." was cancelled.

Robert stayed in the acting game, and in 2004 he landed a long-running role on the British TV show, "Hustle." He popped up on an episode of "Law & Order: SVU" this year!

DAVID McCALLUM

Fan-crazed teenagers swooned for the Scotsman who played good-guy Russian spy Illya Kuryakin – and he inspired a '60s fashion fad with his character's turtlenecks.

David lucked into a second role of a lifetime when he joined "NCIS" in 2003. Now 81, he's entering his 13th season as beloved Medical Examiner Dr. Donald "Ducky" Mallard!

LEO G. CARROLL

Original "U.N.C.L.E." chief Mr. Waverly was played by veteran British character actor Leo G. Carroll. He was known to older audiences for appearing in more Alfred Hitchcock films than any other actor!

The '60s show earned the aging actor a new generation of fans. Sadly, he passed away at the age of 85 four years after the series ended in 1968.

STEFANIE POWERS

Mr. Waverly was also a regular on the spin-off series, "The Girl From U.N.C.L.E.," starring Stefanie Powers as she-spy April Dancer. She went on to star with Robert Wagner in the hit '80s series "Hart to Hart," and was also on the show's TV movies through the '90s.

Now 72, she's most recently appeared in several Hallmark Channel movies.

JILL IRELAND

This swinging '60s sex symbol appeared in five episodes of the spy series. It helped that she was married to David McCallum, but the guest spots ended after she left him for actor Charles Bronson.

Jill made several movies with Charles before she was diagnosed with breast cancer in 1984. She went public with her illness – but tragically died in 1990 at the age of 54.

All The BUZZ

Moving Swiftly!

IT'S another new romance for Taylor Swift – and another impulse buy to keep her close to her new love!

The pop princess bought a Hyannis Port, Mass., home after she fell for Conor Kennedy, grandson of Robert F. Kennedy, before they broke up months later.

Now Taylor has her eyes on a $7 million Scottish castle so she can be close to her UK boyfriend, Calvin Harris.

But don't laugh at Taylor if she breaks up with Calvin after buying the castle. She made a million-dollar profit selling that Hyannis Port place!

Jack's cig problem!

HOLLYWOOD'S oldest bad boy is smoking himself to death!

Jack Nicholson has already surprised his physicians by living to the age of 78 – but the docs are shaking their heads over the Oscar winner's refusal to put down the cigarettes.

They're even more concerned now that Jack is semi-retired and hasn't made a movie since 2010.

"Jack's taken to smoking more than his usual one pack of cigarettes a day," said one of Jack's pals.

But at least the screen legend's habit was a plus for fellow actor Woody Harrelson. He learned how to work a cigarette from Jack while filming the cop drama "Rampart."

"He just covered every facet of it," said an impressed Woody.

JLaw meets Gwyn's kin

FORGET rumors of Jennifer Lawrence hooking up with "Passengers" co-star Chris Pratt – she's hooked on Chris Martin's children!

The on-again, off-again romance with the Coldplay rocker is definitely back on – with Chris, 38, finally introducing the actress, 25, to his kids from his marriage to Gwyneth Paltrow!

To keep things simple, Jen met his daughter Apple, 11, and son Moses, 9, at Chris' home, where they ordered pizza and hung out for hours, sources said.

"Jen even played video games with them!" said the insider. "This is a big step for her and Chris."

CHANGING FACE OF FAME ELLEN DEGENERES

"BEAUTY is about being comfortable in your own skin," said Ellen DeGeneres.

The chit chat queen, 57, is a face of Cover-Girl cosmetics, but tried lots of other looks over the years.

Check out Ellen's transition from adorable comedian and slightly glam actress to her timeless style as one of America's favorite talk show hosts!

DAVID Letterman plans to literally race through his retirement!

The legendary funnyman is seriously thinking about following his career in show business with a stint as a race car driver – but don't tell his wife!

"It's something he's always toyed with," an insider told All The Buzz, citing Dave's minority ownership stake in a racing team. "Dave's always been a huge Indy car fanatic, and grew up just blocks from the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. The only problem is he's not a good enough driver – yet!"

Right after ending his long career with "Late Show," Dave flew all the way from New York City to his hometown of Indianapolis to see the race in person.

The 68-year-old retiree followed that by taking his son, Harry, on family outings to races around the country.

But his wife, Regina, has a slower retirement in mind!

Our insider spilled: "If Regina had even an inkling of what he had in mind, she would flip out!"

Kurt loves Courtney (still)

ROCK star Courtney Love said her deceased husband, Kurt Cobain, saved her life from beyond the grave!

The widow of the Nirvana frontman was riding through Paris recently when her car was attacked by a mob of angry Frenchmen protesting her use of a driving service.

"Courtney was terrified," said a close pal. "She was convinced she'd be torn limb from limb!"

In a panic, she tweeted: "They've ambushed our car and holding our driver hostage!"

But now Courtney insists her late spouse – who committed suicide in 1994 – brought her to safety!

"She felt Kurt push her out of the car," the friend revealed. "Then suddenly, a stranger on a motorcycle appeared and got her out of there."

"She's sure it was Kurt who saved her and that he's her guardian angel!"

Angelina adores lesbian moms

SICKLY star Angelina Jolie risks her health by helping others – including a former lesbian lover!

She's determined to help her ex Jenny Shimizu become an adoptive mom! "Angie's helping Jenny and her new wife, Michelle [Harper], adopt a baby!" said an insider.

Jenny briefly dated Angie after they met on the set of "Foxfire." She married Michelle, a fashion industry exec, last fall. Angie's been very supportive of them.

"Angelina is just happy that Jenny has found love again!" said the insider.

Classic ENQUIRER

THIS week in 1984 The ENQUIRER revealed Richard Burton's dying words were a whispered longing for his ex-wife Elizabeth Taylor. The actor murmured, "Liz, Liz ..." in his final moments, with The ENQUIRER also exposing how the famous screen couple continued to meet secretly throughout Richard's other marriages!

Shocking Sharon!

NOT-so-glamorous Sharon Stone might have been getting the wrong end worked on while she had her toenails done in Beverly Hills! The "Basic Instinct" star looked much older than her 57 years, although she was vain enough to have put on plenty of make-up for her trip to the salon!

CRYPTOGRAM QUOTES

FAMOUS QUOTES FROM YOUR FAVORITE PEOPLE

Cryptograms are coded messages. To solve the Cryptogram, each coded letter must be replaced by the answer letter in the box overhead. When you solve the code for a letter, write the answer letter in the box everywhere the coded letter appears. Look for common words and letter patterns to break the code. Words like AND, I, THE and A are found frequently. Common word endings are ING, S and E.

ASK THE VET WITH DR. JEFF LACROIX

Owning a pet can be a rewarding but often puzzling experience. ENQUIRER columnist, top veterinarian Dr. Jeff LaCroix, answers the toughest questions about your four-legged friends.

CANINE FLU

We read about a new strain of canine flu that's causing a lot of dog deaths in the Midwest. Is there a vaccine for this? You read about an outbreak of Canine Influenza. It occurred initially in Ohio, Illinois and Wisconsin. The virus is now recognized in a wider geographic area, and the current strain is called H3N2. This virus is different from the virus first detected 10 years ago in racing Greyhounds [H3N8] that has a vaccine. Virologists believe that vaccine is unlikely to be effective against the new strain.

The good news is most dogs affected by H3N2 have relatively mild infections. Some develop immunity after exposure without ever showing symptoms. A small number become severely ill and develop life-threatening pneumonia.

The keys to recovery: early detection and rigorous treatment with antibiotics.

HOW TO PLAY

You must fill in every empty square in the Sudoku grid. There's no right way of going about this, but there is only ever one solution. The big grid is split into nine mini-grids. There are nine rows running left to right and nine columns running down. In every row, you must have each of the numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9. These can be in any order. The same applies to columns and mini-grids: place every number 1 through 9 in each column and in each mini-grid.

HOORAY FOR RICOCHET!

Hero dog helps amputees & kids ride the waves

SAY hello to the hound that saves as she surfs!

After she failed as a service pup due to her love of chasing birds, Ricochet got a second chance at helping people by hanging four paws on a surfboard!

The golden retriever washed out of doggie service school – but now she’s catching waves with amputees, children with special needs, recovering veterans and more!

“Since Ricochet was a puppy I wanted her to be a service dog and help those less fortunate,” said her proud owner, Judy Fridono.

“But she had ideas of her own. She was always chasing birds and underperforming, so we found her a new purpose.”

Judy got an early idea of Ricochet’s true calling when the future surf doggie was just a puppy and balanced herself on a boogie board that had been left in a pool. She followed that by jumping onto the surfboard of a child with spinal injuries, showing her special affinity with those who need help the most.

Now the California pup provides some very literal support to first-time surfers who lean on her to discover their own potential at riding new waves of hope.

The 7-year-old sensation has gained some fame as well – with her own website, SurfDogRicochet.com.

Ricochet isn’t the only surfing canine, but Judy said the determined dog is uniquely suited to serve in the surf.

“She has an ability to mirror other people’s emotions, and has a soft, caring and nurturing personality,” said Judy.

“She also won’t let someone stop petting her!” – a sure sign of the love that always ranks high on The Odd List! NE
